(13121) RECOGNIZING INTUITION—The Anatomy Of A Hunch

Catherine Poole, CH

All-levels

- Recognizing the difference between ego, intellect, and intuition
- Tools that support symbolic interpretation (intuition) color, numbers, symbols and language
- What is energy? And how is it translated?
- Exercises that lead to success and validation of intuitive “hunches” (information)
- How to use this as a tool to enhance client relationships and trust
- How to apply these tools to enhance your own life

Intuition, we all have it. How do you recognize it, and more so, how do you trust your own hunches? Learning to trust those “feelings” is really about learning to disseminate between ego and intuition. This course is based on a very successful, proven module that integrates my years as a design and color theory professor with the Jungian models of archetypes, symbol and color. Basically, this is a course in learning to recognize and trust your gut instincts. As a hypnotist, this skill can lead you to ask the insightful intake questions, learn to guide a client with trust and confidence, and also begin to build your own confidence. Use this information in your practice and your life. It is really about recognizing and building upon the abilities you already have! Psychometry is the skill of translating exactly what you feel or what you see without justifying it. Psychometry is about recognizing symbols, and what I refer to in my practice as “vibrational triggers”. Why limit yourself to what YOU can think of? Go beyond this and learn to work with your intuitive ability, not question your intuitive ability, only to regret it later but trust it and learn to work with it.

(23111) HYPNOTIZE YOURSELF TO HEALTH, WEALTH & PROSPERITY—A Powerful Class For ALL Hypnotists To Increase Business & Teach Clients The Secret To Permanent Success

Debi Livingston-Boushey, CI, BCH All-levels

- Identify your personal beliefs regarding money, health and abundant living
- Show you how you were programmed into these beliefs
- How your thoughts are supporting the program
- How hypnosis is a powerful, effective tool to release old beliefs and establish new ones with corresponding thoughts and feelings

Do you have all the clients you want and need? Do you truly believe you can prosper in your profession or is there an uncomfortable feeling of doubt lurking in the background? The assumption with this class is that up until now, we have hypnotized ourselves to lack, limitation and poverty consciousness. The Law of Attraction works both ways; you get what you ask for and also what you resist! This class is a must for all practitioners of hypnosis. Take the time to give to yourself by cleaning out the old belief systems in your subconscious mind and discover how easy it is to manifest your personal goals. Once you have done this for yourself - your business will flourish because you will be walking the walk while talking the talk! Your clients will know the difference. After this workshop, you will be able to use self-hypnosis to attract the abundant lifestyle you choose, and give you a step-by-step outline to teach your clients.

(33092) HYPNOSIS IN GERIATRICS—Hypnosis Techniques For The Elderly

Maurice Kershaw, MA, FNGH, BCH, OB

All-levels

The senior citizen population in the US, Canada and throughout the world is rapidly increasing, year after year. Seniors are living longer, have more disposable income and represent a gigantic market for the well-trained hypnotist. Seniors can be guided to cope with aging problems physically, intellectually and emotionally and while doing so, can hope to add comfortable, rewarding years to their extended life. In this workshop, we will look at some hypnosis-oriented techniques for the geriatric client. Group sessions and individual strategies will be covered in a number of problems and settings relevant to the senior citizen. These will include activity and exercise, sleeping soundly, handling stress, aggravation and loneliness, anxiety, pain relief, sexuality and self-image. Your knowledge of hypnosis will tell you that very specialized techniques and understandings of the senior client are essential in treating the older citizen.

(33012) A MULTI-DISCIPLINARY APPROACH TO ORGANIZING COMPREHENSIVE AND EFFECTIVE STRESS MANAGEMENT PROGRAMS FOR INDIVIDUALS AND GROUPS

—How To Integrate Hypnosis, Cognitive Restructuring, The Law Of Attractions And Letting Go Of Negative Emotions To Organize Effective And Comprehensive Stress Management Program For The 21st Century

Alphonse M. Tatarunis, CH

All-levels

- How to take the various components of this multi-disciplinary approach and organize a cohesive and comprehensive individual or group stress management program
- The purpose of each component of the multi-disciplinary approach
- That hypnotic and non-hypnotic CDs can be used to reinforce the stress management concepts
- How to let go of negative emotions
- How to integrate the Law of Attraction into the stress management program

Since relaxation is an important component of any stress management program, hypnosis will fulfill that need. Cognitive restructuring (behavior modification) must also be considered. If the person does not change his/her behavior then she/he will continue to be stressed by his/her old behaviors. The Law of Attraction is used to create a positive mental atmosphere to attract what the person wants and not attract what he doesn't want. A concrete sequential approach to the Law of Attraction is used. A specific technique for letting go of negative emotion will be learned.
